

Ryland Technology Ltd. is pleased to announce the launch of the new look Chloe and Jade Edwards website. Following media interest in the two talented motor racing sisters, a new design showing how their performance on the track has proved so successful, was required. Without hesitation the team of developers at Ryland consulted with their father, Touring Car Race Winner Jim Edwards Junior (Jnr), working together to design the new look.

Chloe and Jade Edwards started their motor racing careers watching and learning from the best. Over the past couple of years they have progressed from Karts to Ginettas and now on to the senior championships such as the Renault Clio Cup.

“We have great expectations for both Chloe and Jade” says Paul Butler, Ryland’s Head of Sales & Marketing. “They have proved themselves to be very competitive drivers with experience beyond their years. They need sponsorship and we are only too pleased to get involved.”

If you would like to sponsor either Chloe, Jade or indeed both drivers contact Jim Edwards now using the contact form supplied. There are various packages on offer so don’t miss out.
